Today's Market Reports

WALL STREET.

New York, June 28.—Today's stock market was probably the quietest, with one exception, in over a score of years. The closing was irregular.

Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, June 29.—Higher cables telling to keep traders away from the selling side of the wheat market today and caused a sudden tightening of values. Opening prices, which were unchanged to 1-4 cent higher, were followed by a slight reaction, then by a sharp advance and later by a material sag from top figures.

The close was steady at 5 9 3/4, a 3/4 cent net decline.

Rain breaking the drought southwest had a weakening effect on the corn market. After starting unchanged to 3-8 up, prices declined moderately and afterward rallied briskly.

The close was steady, 5 1/2 to 5 cent net.

Oats swayed with other grain. Sellers were in a majority but thinned out when wheat began to bulge.

Hipper prices for hogs steadied the provision market.
